FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Date _____

Patient Name _____ Date of Birth _____
(please print)

Thank you for choosing AGA, LLC (AGA). Please read and sign this Financial Disclosure Statement prior to your appointment. Patients who do not pay in full at the time of service must complete the required information and insurance forms before service will be rendered.

You can expect to receive the following bills as a result of your visit:

- Physician Fee: Fee to be paid to the physician for performing the service. This bill will be from AGA, LLC, AGA Clinical Services, LLC, or AGA Professional Services, LLC.
- Lab Fee: If a lab test is ordered, a second bill will come from a lab or a radiologist.

Some insurance companies require precertification for this service. We will make every effort to verify your benefits and obtain any necessary precertification prior to your appointment. This is not a guarantee of payment.

Your insurance company will send you an Explanation of Benefits that will explain how your bill was paid by them and any amount for which you may be responsible. It is your responsibility to understand your insurance benefits.

Some insurance plans require you to pay different out-of-pocket amounts based on the location where the service is performed. Deductibles, co-insurance and co-payments may also apply according to your insurance plan. By law, you are responsible for these amounts, as well as any non-covered services outlined in your health plan. We will submit primary, secondary and tertiary claims on your behalf as long as the information needed to process the claim is obtained and verified before your visit. If this information is obtained after your visit or if the information provided is deemed inactive for your dates of service, the patient or guarantor is responsible for the balance.

We accept cash, checks and major credit cards. AGA and its affiliates collect co-payments at the time of service. Additional payment may be required based on your insurance plan. If you have a balance due at any affiliate of AGA, LLC, including AGA Clinical Services, LLC or AGA Professional Services, LLC, your payment will be applied to the oldest balance first. In the event your account has a credit for one affiliate of AGA and a deficit for another, we reserve the right to transfer credits to any outstanding balances prior to issuing a refund.

Additional questions regarding billing or payment arrangements should be directed as follows:

- For an upcoming visit, call the office where your appointment is scheduled and ask to speak to the financial counselor.
- For previous visits, call 678.223.7788.

If you are unable to keep your appointment, please reschedule at least 48 hours in advance. A missed appointment will result in a $25 fee. A $30 fee will be incurred for returned checks.

PATIENT'S REASSIGNMENT AND RELEASE STATEMENT

By signing below, I understand the billing practices of AGA, LLC and its affiliates and that I may receive multiple bills related to my service as explained above. I authorize payment of medical benefits to AGA, LLC and its affiliates and authorize them to release any medical information necessary to process claims. I give AGA, LLC permission to apply payments received to balances due at AGA, LLC, or any of its affiliates, including AGA Clinical Services, LLC or AGA Professional Services, LLC, and understand that payments will be applied to the oldest balance first. I understand that I am financially responsible for any co-payments, deductibles, co-insurance and non-covered services as outlined by my health plan.

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

AGA, LLC and its affiliates ("AGA") present this Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") to our patients describing how your identifiable medical information (called protected health information or PHI) may be used or disclosed, and to notify you of your rights regarding this information.

Patient Protected Health Information

Under Federal law, your patient health information is protected and confidential. Protected health information (PHI) includes information about your symptoms, test results, diagnosis, treatment and related medical information. Your health information also includes payment, billing and insurance information.

How We Use Your Protected Health Information

AGA uses health information about you for treatment, analyzing procedures and lab results. We also use PHI to obtain payment and for health care operations, including administrative purposes and evaluation of the quality of care that you receive. Under some circumstances where the law applies, we may be required to use or disclose the information without your permission.

Examples of Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations

Treatment: AGA will use and disclose your PHI to provide you with medical treatment or services. For example, nurses, physicians and other members of your treatment team will record information in your medical record and use it to determine the most appropriate course of care. AGA may also disclose this information by fax, in person, or via telecommunication. We may communicate to other health care providers who are participating in your treatment, to pharmacists who are filling and refilling your prescriptions, and to family members who are helping with your care.

Payment: AGA will use and disclose your PHI for payment purposes. For example, AGA may need to obtain authorization from your insurance company before providing certain types of treatment. AGA will submit bills and maintain records of payments from your health plan.

Health Care Operations: AGA will use and disclose your health information to conduct our standard internal operations. Examples include proper administration of records, evaluation of the quality of treatment, and assessing the care and outcomes of your case and others like it.

Release of Information to Family or Friends

AGA knows that family or friends are an integral part of a patient's care. If you wish to authorize a family member or friend to receive or request information regarding your care or test results, please provide their name and contact information on the 'Notice of Privacy Practices Acknowledgement' form. AGA will not release your information to any friend or family without your written consent. If you wish to change or update the authorized individuals, you will need to make these updates in writing.

Special Uses

AGA may use your information to contact you with appointment reminders by phone, mail, email, or text message. AGA may also contact you to provide information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. This communication may be sent to you via phone, mail, or email. If you have granted written permission, protected health information may also be sent to you via email. If you wish to authorize the use of email as a method for AGA to communicate with you regarding your PHI, sign the proper section on the 'Notice of Privacy Practices Acknowledgement' form.

Health Information Exchange

Your information may be shared with other healthcare providers via Health Information Exchange (HIE). AGA is currently participating in the Georgia Health Information Network (GaHIN) HIE.

- Function of the HIE
  The function of the HIE is to improve patient-centered healthcare through the use and exchange of electronic health information. This collaborative effort seeks to close the patient information gap by allowing authorized healthcare providers to share their patients' records on an as-needed basis to support improved quality of care and patient health outcomes, as well as reduce patient healthcare costs.

- Types of Data Exchanged
  Members of the HIE share electronic health records, which may include your medical history, allergies, radiology, labs, doctors' notes and/or immunizations. Sensitive information that requires specific written authorization to disclose will not be shared through the HIE; this includes mental health and psychotherapy records. In the event that you want this type of sensitive information shared, an express written consent will be required for each release. However, sensitive health information, including, but not limited to: substance abuse records, HIV/AIDS information, genetic testing, and developmental disability records may be viewed through the HIE unless you opt-out of the HIE (See "Opting Out" section).

- Permitted Disclosures
  The HIE ensures protection of patients' personal information by limiting use of patient health data to ensure meaningful use, as described in the "How We Use Protected Health Information" section of this document. In addition, state agencies may only request, receive, use and disclose patient health data solely as authorized by applicable law, or as legally authorized by the individual.

- Opting Out
  You have the choice to opt-out of having your electronic records viewed by participating members of the HIE at any time, by completing the opt-out form, which will be provided upon request. If you choose to opt-out of the HIE, your electronic health records cannot be viewed or shared with other healthcare providers using the network. However, authorized healthcare providers will still be able to access your health information on an as-needed basis to assist with continued care via phone, fax and/or regular mail. Until you submit a completed opt-out form, or provide written notice that you are opting not to participate in the HIE, your electronic information is subject to be viewed amongst authorized members of the HIE utilizing the system. Once received, it may take up to five business days to process the request. It is important to note that if another provider who treats you is a member of the HIE, if you do not opt-out with that provider, your information may still be viewed and shared via the HIE.

- Opting Back In
  In the event that you choose to have your electronic records viewed by participating members of the HIE after opting out, you may simply choose to opt-out at any time by providing a written request. It is important to note that if you choose to opt-out of having your electronic records shared via the HIE, none of your electronic records will be viewable via the HIE until you provide AGA written notification expressly consenting to your electronic records being shared via this method.

- Potential Risks and Benefits of HIE Participation
  - Benefits
    Participation provides patients with several benefits, including: quick, secure and accurate sharing of patient information among authorized healthcare providers for improved and efficient patient care; reduction of duplicate medical tests; expedited information retrieval, increasing patients' face-to-face time with providers; and enhancing accuracy and efficiency in patient care.

  - Risks
    There are limited risks associated with your participation in the HIE. The risks are managed through HIE policies and federal HIPAA regulations, by which all participants must abide. You have a right to receive a list of occurrences that your health information was accessed, as well as for what purpose, as described in the "Accounting of Disclosures" section of this document. In the event there is a breach of security which involves your health information, you will be notified per HIPAA regulations.

Other Uses and Disclosures Not Requiring Written Permission

AGA may use or disclose your protected health information for other reasons, even without your consent. Subject to certain requirements, AGA is permitted to give out health information without your permission for the following purposes:

- Required by Law
  AGA may be required by the law to disclose your PHI for certain purposes, such as reporting gunshot wounds, suspected abuse or neglect, or similar injuries and events.

- Research
  AGA may use or disclose information for approved medical research subject to specific criteria.

- Public Health Activities
  As required by law, AGA may disclose vital statistics, diseases, proof of immunization, information related to recalls of dangerous products, and similar information to public health authorities.

- Health Oversight
  AGA may be required to disclose information to assist in investigations and audits; eligibility for government programs; inspections; licensure or disciplinary actions; compliance to civil rights laws; and similar activities.

- Judicial and Administrative Proceedings
  AGA may disclose information in response to an appropriate subpoena or court order.

- Law Enforcement Purposes
  Subject to certain restrictions, AGA may disclose information required by law enforcement officials.

- Deaths
  We may report information regarding deaths to coroners, medical examiners, funeral directors, and organ donation agencies.

- Serious Threat to Health or Safety
  AGA may use and disclose information when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person.

- Military and Special Government Functions
  If you are a member of the armed forces, AGA may release information as required by military command authorities. AGA may also disclose information to correctional institutions or for national security purposes.

- Workers' Compensation
  AGA may release information about you as authorized by and to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or similar programs providing benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

In any other situation, we will ask for your written authorization before using or disclosing any identifiable health information about you. If you choose to sign an authorization to disclose information, you can later revoke that authorization to stop any future uses and disclosures.

Individual Rights

You have the following rights with regard to your health information. Submit any concerns in writing to AGA's Compliance Officer (see below).

- Request Restrictions
  You may request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of your health information. These requests must be in writing. AGA is not required to agree to most restrictions, but if we do agree, AGA must abide by those restrictions.

- Restrict Disclosure to a Health Plan
  You may request, in writing, to restrict disclosure of your PHI to a health plan. For example, you may request in writing that you choose not to use your insurance for a specific visit. If the request is made in writing in advance, the healthcare service or item is paid in full at the time of service, and the disclosure is for payment or healthcare operations, AGA must agree to the restriction except for cases where the disclosure is required by law. (i.e., your health plan requires all healthcare services to be disclosed or filed.)

- Confidential Communications
  You may ask us to communicate with you confidentially including by reasonable alternate means or locations. This request must be made in writing. There may be conditions placed on accommodating the request in certain situations.

- Inspect and Obtain Copies
  You have the right to see or receive a copy of your health information. There may be a small charge dictated by Georgia Law for these copies. You may obtain a copy of your health information by completing and submitting a medical records release form. By law, you must receive the requested information within 30 days.

- Amend Information
  If you believe information in your record is incorrect, you have the right to request that AGA correct or amend the existing information. The request must be made in writing and include a reason to support the requested amendment. Your AGA physician has the right to refuse your request. Regardless, a letter concerning your request will be sent within 60 days of said request.

- Accounting of Disclosures
  You may request a list of instances where we have disclosed health information about you within the last six years for reasons other than treatment, payment, or health care operations. This request must be submitted in writing. The request must be fulfilled within 60 days. If AGA is unable to fulfill the request within 60 days, the law grants a one-time 30 day extension. A written statement regarding the reason for the delay will be provided to you. If you request an accounting more than once in a 12 month period, AGA may impose a reasonable cost-based fee for each subsequent request.

- Obtain Paper Copy of Notice
  If you have previously received this Notice in electronic form, you have the right to request a paper copy of this Notice.

Our Legal Duty

We are required by law to protect and maintain the privacy of your PHI, to provide this Notice about our legal duties and privacy practices regarding PHI, and to abide by the terms of the Notice currently in effect. We are also required by law to notify you in the event of a breach of your unsecured PHI.

Changes in Privacy Practices

We may change our policies at any time. A current version of our Notice is available on AGA's website. A current summary version of our Notice is available in each waiting area at all times. You may also request a copy of the current version of our Notice at any time. Any changes to our privacy practices described in this Notice will apply to all PHI created or received prior to this revision. For more information about our privacy practices, submit concerns in writing to AGA's Compliance Officer (see below).

Complaints

If you are concerned that we have violated your privacy rights, if you disagree with a decision we made about your records, or would like to file a complaint, contact the person listed below. You may also send a written complaint to the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The person listed below will provide you with the appropriate address upon request. You will not be penalized in any way for filing a complaint.

If you have any questions, requests or complaints regarding privacy rights, please contact AGA's Compliance Officer:
